TO REMAIN IN OFFICE OF PREMIER.

By the Associated Press

PARIS, May 19. — Ignace Jan Paderewski, the Polish premier, is expected to arrive in Poland Thursday. A conference of officials believe the present crisis may be compromised so Paderewski may retain the premiership. It is said he may seek the release of Poland from promises regarding hostilities with Ukraine. While in Paris Paderewski had promised the peace conference that Poland would not take the offensive against the Ukrainians in Galicia, but the Polish diet would not ratify his action. He then tendered his resignation, considering himself bound by his pledge to the allies.

Hawker and Commander Mackenzie Grieve took the air at St. Johns, N. F., Sunday afternoon at 1:55, New York time, and expected to complete the trip in twenty hours, thereby beating the American planes traveling via the Azores and winning the $50,000 prize offered for the first trans-Atlantic voyage.

GERMANY WILL NEVER SIGN TERMS.

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, May 19. — President Ebert, in addressing a popular demonstration here today, declared that Germany would "never sign the peace terms." The demonstration was held in Lustgarten and attended by a great crowd. Ebert described the peace terms as the "product of the enemy's revengeful hysteria" and added that "foreign countries will not permit the proscriptio of Germany. They will raise their voices with us that this peace of enslavement which we will never sign shall not come to pass."

WORSTELL ITEMS.

This section was visited by heavy rain fall all week. Mr. Sunshine only showed his face once or twice. The farmers are all behind with their work. A few who had planted cotton will have to replant. ## AUSTRIAN TERMS NOT YET READY

By the Associated Press

PARIS, May 19.—The impression prevailed in peace conference circles today that the peace treaty with Austria would not be presented during the current week. Drafting of the treaty is taking longer than was anticipated. The council of four met this morning. The German note on the status of religious missions and further details of Bulgarian and Turkish affairs were to be considered.

ADA

A man is Texas has obtained a judgment for $50,000 damages from a bunch who tarred and feathered him in consequence of alleged disloyal utterances. He sued for half a million. If he was guilty of the offense the jury should have given the defendants a vote of thanks for their work instead of assessing damages against them.

Center Teachers Honored.
CENTER, Okla., May 19.—Several families gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Henry on last Tuesday evening and gave them a little surprise party in appreciation of the good they have done in our community the past eight months of school. All the best people of Center and surrounding community regret so much to give them up and will say that Maysville is very fortunate in securing such gentle people as Mr. and Mrs.
Henry and such competent teachers as we find them to be. Our loss is Maysville's gain. A FRIEND.

The Ada school district will on Thursday vote on the proposition of an additional tax levy for the support of the public schools. As the News sees it the citizens cannot afford to vote it down. The district has many thousands of dollars invested in school houses and equipment another $50,000 building is to be erected in time for the next term. Without this extra levy the schools can run only about four and one-half months. This means a general disorganization from which it would require years to recover.
Competent teachers would go elsewhere and only the most inferior could be secured. The schools have kept pace with the district in the matter of growth and more than 50 teachers are now required to handle the 2,500 scholars. Furthermore, voting down this tax would not delay the erection of the new building. That matter was settled by the voters and has no connection with the present one. All other places in Oklahoma are having to vote a tax as large or larger than the one proposed here and will be voted. The school system of Ada has always been a matter of pride with the progressive citizens of this city and they cannot afford a backward step at this time when schools are needed as never before.

MARVIN BROWN COMES BACK.
We welcome back to Oklahoma newspaperman, our old friend and former newspaper associate, Marvin Brown, who has purchased the controlling interest in the Ada News.
Seventeen years ago Brown and the writer of these lines purchased the Ada News when it was but a few weeks old. We gave six hundred dollars for it on credit. When people would not pay us what they owed, we would write them up and then go out on the street armed to the teeth expecting a fight. We had a few too. Brown soon outgrew the News and sold out to Weaver. Weaver soon got into politics, went to the Constitutional Convention, went broke, got married and landed on a sweet potato farm, where he went broke some more. Brown went north, made a pot full of money and came back to Ada the other day and gave many thousands of dollars to get back his first love. We drifted from our sweet potato farm over east close to Arkansas where we still reside—not raising "taters" now, but publishing the best newspaper in Latimer county. Perhaps you know that there is only one in the county.

Marvin Brown is one of Oklahoma's greatest journalists. Ada should be glad to have him back.
Ada and the News have a great future. Brown almost insures it—Carlton Weaver in Latimer County News-Democrat.

And still the Germans are howling about the peace terms the allies are offering. Eating crow which one had prepared for the other fellow is a tough proposition.
Crow is unpalatable enough at best, but in a case of this kind it is doubly bad.

Texas will vote on woman suffrage and a good roads bond issue in a few days. Both propositions are likely to carry, although there is some kicking, of course.

Week's Offering at the Theatres.
"Common Clay" week's biggest picture.

Programs at local theatres are exceptionally strong.
"Common Clay" is a new sort of motion picture, doubtless it is the photodramatic feature or many months. It teaches the omnipotence of love, and so beautiful is it and so appealing that an eight weeks run at the "Shubert theatre" Kansas City failed to accommodate those who sought to see it. This remarkable photoplay will be shown at the American theatre Thursday and Friday of this week.

Among the other stars appearing there are Mary MacLaren in "The Amazing Wife," on Tuesday, and William Russell on next Saturday.
At the Liberty opening today and running through the week are the U. S. A. Girls featuring Jimmie and Bonnie Allard and Vi Gilbert supported by a clever cast of principals and a big singing and dancing "Beauty Chorus." Cleanliness is the main feature of their show, Comedy Without Smut. They will give a complete change of program each day as well as pictures, well known stars in the movies at the Liberty this week are "Claire Anderson, Monday; "Viola Dana," Tuesday. On Wednesday a special program for ladies and children in a Paramount picture, "Little Women," which book is favorably known by the author of Louisa May Alcott, 2-600,000 people paid $2.00 each to read it. Ladies and children will be immensely pleased with this production. On Thursday "Lila Lee" featured in "The Secret Garden," whose author is "Francis Hodgson Burnett" who also wrote "Little Lloyd Fauntleroy." This is another feature guaranteed to please. Then on Friday comes Fred Stone in a Big Circus picture, "Under the Top."

ARDEN L. BULLOCK RETURNS FROM ITALY

Arden L. Bullock, who resigned as county attorney last summer to enter the army Y. M. C. A. work, returned Sunday from Italy where he was sent.

The Y. M. C. A. sent 300 men to the Italian front where they did much to keep up the morale of the soldiers. The Italian government had made no provisions for the entertainment of the soldiers and the Y. M. C. A. by establishing a chain of moving picture shows and through their huts, or casars, as the Italians termed them, filled a badly needed want. They are now pushing an educational program.

Mr. Bullock was located prior a shell exploded in front of the Y

Mr. Bullock says the Italian army conference. They are not so cordial now, but still have a great deal of admiration for this country.

Speaking of the offensive launched by the Italians in October Mr.
Bullock said that it required two or three days for the Italians to gain a solid foothold across the Piave, but when they once started the Austrians, though superior in numbers, lost no time in moving.
Everywhere the ground was littered with the guns of all kinds, helmets, rifles and everything else that might retard a man who was traveling in a hurry.

Y men followed the Italian army closely and did a great deal of relief work among the destitute people whom the Austrians had robbed of everything on their advance a little previous year.

Methodist Centenary Meetings.
Sunday afternoon and evening the Methodist church was the scene of two inspiring Centenary services. At the afternoon meeting inspiring addresses were delivered by Mr. J. L.
Adair, Robert Bradley, John A.
Smith and the pastor. From this meeting the team workers went out with the spirit of the Crusaders to open the big drive for their quota of $15,000 to apply on the Centenary askings of thirty-five millions to be raised this week by the Southern Methodist church.

At the evening meeting the speakers were Captain Webster from "over there" and the pastor, and each acquitted himself with honor and also did justice to the great cause of missions to the world over.

The reports of the team workers showed the pledges secured during the afternoon had reached the sum of $3,300 which leaves a balance on the fifteen thousand dollar quota amounting to $11,700.

Mr. Smith who is conducting the drive and those associated with him in the cabinet are certain that Methodism in Ada will certainly "go over the top" before the close of the week. They call on every member of the church for a maximum pledge. Each member and each friend of the congregation will be expected to respond.

They meet tonight at 8:30 for the report of the second days work and to plan for the completion of the drive on calendar time.

No large subscriptions have been reported up to this time. The sum above reported as secured is made up of comparatively small gifts; the largest being five hundred dollars.

VOLUNTEERS SPENDING THIS WEEK IN CAMP

The annual encampment of the local company of the High School Volunteers of the United States opened this morning at 7:20 and the cadets will be in camp, or bar-acks until noon Friday.

The delay in the shipment from state headquarters of the tents and other equipment has interrupted slightly the plans, but barracks have been provided and no interruption of the schedule has occurred.

Under the arrangement, camp schedule is carried out, arrangements being made for the school schedule in such way that it becomes a part of the camp life.

The H. S. V. U. S. is closing a most successful year of existence in a most approved manner and the training which they have received through this agency has been of incalculable benefit to all in the preparation to good citizenship.

The spirit of the course is not militaristic, the plan is with modifications to suit educational needs.

Visitors to the camp will be welcome after 3:00 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and on Friday morning.

The encampment will close with the annual cadet show on Thursday night on the school grounds.
This show consists of the following features: Annual Inspection and Review, Award of Trophies, and a spectacular demonstration of emergency first aid. This last mentioned feature will involve an imitation bombardment and first aid dressing.
Everybody is invited to attend this entertainment.

Centenary Workers Tonight.

All team workers are to meet at the church at eight-thirty this evening to make reports of the day's work and to strengthen the plans of campaign for tomorrow. Then Centenary is worth all of your time this week and we will all have to make some sacrifices to do our share of the work as well as the giving. Let all the team workers report at the evening meeting today.—The Centenary cabinet.

Forty-three cars have been entered in the 500-mile automobile race to DEROIT, Mich., May 19.—Urban Shocker, star pitcher of the St.

Louis Americans, who returned recently from service overseas, confided to relatives here that he "had a narrow escape." It happened during a brief hand-to-hand fight, in which Shocker thrust his bayonet through a German to save his own life. He sustained a bayonet wound on the head.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 19.—Kid prised his admirers by out-boxing Kid Herman, bantam weight champion, in a recent contest, will meet the title holder in a return fight here May 29. The weight will be 120 pounds at 3 p. m.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 19.— Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee lightweight, probably will be unable to box for at least a month as a result of an injured hand. The injury was received in his match with Johnny Dundee of New York. The punch loosened a gold filling in Dundee's teeth. Because critics were divided over the result of the contest, an attempt will be made for a return battle early in June.

LIQUOR SITUATION IN OHIO VERY UNCERTAIN.

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 19.—Just what is going to happen to the liquor traffic in Ohio after May 27 when the prohibition amendment to the state constitution, adopted last autumn becomes effective, is a problem that is bothering state and local officials.

The state faces the situation of having a dry constitution but no statutes to enforce it. The General Assembly enacted enforcement but they must run the gauntlet of a referendum next November before they can become operative and should the voters disapprove of them there will be no particular authority by which to enforce prohibition, it is said. Anti-Saloon league officials say they have not given up hope of obtaining some legislation that will be effective May 27.

Most of the saloon keepers are planning to quit business May 27 and they may have to retire even before the date. The license year of saloonkeepers expires May 24.
None has applied for renewal of license and the time for making application has passed.

The Ohio Home Rule Association, the "wet" organization, is planning its campaign to defeat the enforcement bills next November. It has also started a referendum on the resolution ratifying the national prohibition amendment, but this is being resisted in the courts by the Anti-Saloon League.

Peculiar Foods.

It has recently been discovered that the eggs of dog fish are as good for eating purposes as hen's eggs.
Those of the larger varieties of dog fish are quite as large as ordinary hen's eggs.

The empty shells or cases of these eggs may sometimes be picked up on the seashore. They are squar-ish flaps of leathery stuff, with the egg in the center.

Turtle eggs are largely eaten in all hot countries. You find them on almost any sandy beach between latitudes 25 north and 25 south.

The turtles come out of the sea, scrape a hole in the sand, lay their eggs and cover them up. A hundred and fifty are often found in one nest.

These eggs are about the size of hen's eggs, covered with a white, parchment-like shell, and, if fresh, of excellent flavor. They make capital omelettes, or can be fried or used for cooking, but they will not boil. That is to say, the white will not set as does that of a bird's egg.

The fresh water turtle also lays edible eggs. There are both hard-shell and soft-shell turtles in the lakes of Florida and Louisiana; also in South American rivers, such as the Orinoco.

The turtle living in the Orinoco lays eggs which are extraordinary rich in oil. The Indians in British Guiana collect 25,000,000 yearly for making oil.

The eggs of many sea birds are excellent eating. The best of the lot is said to be that of the "murre" a bird which is very common on the Labrador coast.

The Indians of the Florida Everglades eat the eggs of the alligator.
But these have such a strong musky flavor that white men cannot touch them.

The part played by the United States in the world war served to develop in this country the biggest cannon works in the world, outrivaling even that of the Krupps at Essen, Germany. The Bethlehem steel works, when the armistice was signed, was capable of turning

BETTER FEELING IN WESTERN HEMISPHERE

WASHINGTON, May 19.—That peace will be largely strengthened on the Western hemisphere by an extensive interchange of thought among the people of the various countries was the burden of a statement by Acting Secretary of State Frank L. Polk today in urging that the newspapers of the United States devote more attention to news of the Latin American countries, Mr.
Polk said he hoped the American newspapers would take this means of educating the people of the United States to better understand and appreciate the importance and greatness of our neighbors of South and Central America and pointed out that by lending their aid to the furtherance of this education the newspapers would be fulfilling a public duty to the government.

"The more we know of the other countries of North and South America," said Mr. Polk today, "the less likelihood there is of misunderstandings. The nations of the world are becoming more and more interdependent daily with the increased efficiency of transportation and communication facilities.
Exchange of news results inevitably in better relations and a fuller comprehension of the efforts that are being made by the different countries to solve the problems of civilization. Improved commercial relations are accompanied by better cultural relations.

"One result of the European war has been to show the United States how completely our interests lie in this hemisphere. With peace restored our interest in European affairs will be more theoretical than real but we have and must have closer relations with our neighbors in Central and South America. The people of Latin America are intensely interested in the United States. The newspapers of Central and South America print a great deal of news about this country. It would be of incalculable benefit if the newspapers of the United States would pay more attention to news regarding Latin America and in a very short time these newspapers could educate the public to seek in formation and more news about our neighbors to the South."

SECRETS BARED

BERLIN, April 6.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The events surrounding the drafting and dispatching of the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia which inaugurated the world war are given their first amplification in the forthcoming publication of the recollections of Conrad von Hotzendorf, the former Austro-Hungarian Field Marshal.

The advanced roofs of the volume which is entitled "The Road to the Catastrophe" indicate that it will prove a significant parallel to General Ludendorff's memoirs because of its dramatic and intimate revelations of Austro-Hungarian diplomacy and war policies and because of the candor with which it discusses Emperor Charles, the co-operation of the German and Austro-Hungarian general staff, the relations of the former Emperor Francis Joseph and the German Emperor William, the social and political intrigues of the Austrian Empress Zita and the whole hierarchy of the Austrian granddukes.

The volume is compiled by Karl Nowak, an author and journalist and formerly war correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, who for two years was assigned in a personal capacity to Marshal von Hotzendorf's headquarters. Nowak reported the war on all the eastern fronts and while his name nominally appears on the title page, the volume is known to be von Hotzendorf's authorized and personally revised recollections.

Discussing the events immediately following the assassination of Archduke Frederick at Sarajevo, Nowak states that few, if any people knew the plans of Count von Berchtold then Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister. Not even the high military officials were informed nor was it known whether he was communicating with Berlin, according to the writer.

"Indignation in political and diplomatic circles ran high as a result of the murder," reads the memoirs. "Military leaders quoted von Moltke's words, 'we know the catastrophe will come some day; the sooner the better for us.'"

This was the situation Marshal von Hotzendorf found on his return from a fabled holiday in the Tyrol where he went after the killing of the Archduke at Sarajevo, in order to create the impression that the situation was not menacing to the peace of Europe. Nowak describes the episode of the ultimatum to Serbia as follows:

"The ministers were summoned to Hallhausplatz (foreign office). Von Hotzendorf, then chief of the general staff, was hurriedly recalled from Tyrol where he was on leave granted him after the Sarajevo assassination. Count von Berchtold who conducted the deliberations consulted the general in purely military matters. His opinion was sought only in connection with the military prospects. The diplomatic situation was not mentioned nor was any reference made either to the Serbian ultimatum or to any other ultimatum.

"Von Hotzendorf frankly analyzed every possible hostile constellation and did not conceal his conviction that the Austro-Hungarian monarchy was unequal to the demands of war on three fronts. He referred to similar views previously expressed in the preceding years, in which he had pointed out exactly such complications and entered upon minute consideration of every emergency growing out of a possible international clash.

"Count von Berchtold asked him whether the prospects for the monarchy would improve in the course of the next few years. Von Hotzendorf spoke of Hungarian opposition to huge armament credits and the speed with which other nations were arming. He declared that he would be guilty of lying if he said the chances of the monarchy later on would be more auspicious. On the contrary, he believed they were bound to grow worse in the face of the prevalent disinclination to grant war credits and the growing nationalist propaganda. His advice represented the frank judgment of a military expert given solely in reply to the Minister's demand. Count von Berchtold sought no further information and the conference disbanded.

"For a decisive conference on the ultimatum the ministers were summoned three days later to Count von Berchtold's residence. Emperor Francis Joseph was not present but Count Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, Count von Stuergh, the Austrian Premier, Marshal von Hotzendorf, Minister of War Korbatin and one naval expert were present. Count von Berchtold again conducted the deliberations. Two ministerial officials were called in to assist in the technicalities of drafting the note. Von Berchtold read the ultimatum. Nobody objected. Count Tisza alone waived for a moment. The complications which might arise from the ultimatum to affect the national problems of Hungary made him appear ill at ease, but he too finally gave his consent.

"The note contained severities. It was plain to everyone that the monarchy would insist its representatives be permitted to attend the Belgrade investigation (of the Sarajevo murder) because suspicion was very pronounced that not only Premier Puachitch but the royal house of Serbia was implicated in the assassination.

"That the note should receive drastic formulation was to be expected in view of the prevailing attitude that the monarchy thus was broadly challenged could not do otherwise than demand complete satisfaction and a guarantee that Serbian machinations should stop for good.

"The conference then proceeded to give the ultimatum its final textual formulation. The diplomats present discussed this phase thoroughly before two experts rendered the note into the French language. The soldiers present had no part in the decision. The final official version was once more read aloud and the conference adjourned."

Nowak describes the scene in the Schenbrunn (Imperial palace) shortly after the conference as follows: "The old emperor never for a moment lost self-control. He now was fully aware that the monarchy had been undermined and that its fate was in the balance. He asked von Hotzendorf concerning the state of mobilization and whether everything was in order. The chief of staff reassured the aged monarch. Without outward sign of emotion, Francis Joseph, in the presence of the foreign minister signed the declaration of war."

According to Nowak, he believes that the men of the Ballhausplatz actually expected the Belgrade government would succumb to the Austro-Hungarian bluff or that if it resisted, the issue would be decided by a swift military campaign which would be carried out with such speed as to accomplish localization of the war and prevent other European powers from intervening.

MUSSEL SHELL INDUSTRY*ON WABASH RIVER

By the Associated Press

VINCENNES, Ind., May 19.—The supply of mussel shells from which pearl buttons are made, rapidly is becoming scarce in the part of the Wabash river in this vicinity. Indigently fewer and fewer pearls and slugs are being found in the shells.

Only a few years ago the price for select shells was $5 a ton, and the digger spered. Now the price is $40 a ton, and shells known as "washboards" formerly discarded, are included. A digger at present can only find about 100 pounds a day.

Mussels now obtained are young and have not had sufficient time to develop slugs and pearls, the diggers assert. The highly colored "washboard" shells are cut into buttons and no matter how thin a piece of shell happens to be, some use is found for it.

Regardless of the scarcity of shells, indications are that there will be the usual number of diggers at work the coming summer. Most of them have hunted pearls for years. Vincennes broke into the limelight as a place where pearls might be found several years ago. One pearl from the Wabash was sold by the digger for $1,700 and another for $1,500. When placed on the market later by the purchasers it is said the pearls brought several thousand dollars. While the pearls are becoming scarce in proportion to the diminishing supply of mussels occasionally a good one is found. One weighing 35 grains was found recently.

ELKS INCREASE THEIR CONTRIBUTION $100,000

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Since the Federal Board for Vocational Education was made the recipient of a generous relief fund from the Elks a great many cases of hardship existing among disabled soldiers have been relieved promptly. The Board was not able to do this until the fund was placed in its hands. Now when a disabled soldier is found who is in need of vocational retraining to enable him to make a living, there are no longer heartbreaking delays which, however, were necessary incidents to the disbursement of government funds. These now being supplemented by the fund from the Elks, the alleviation of immediate necessities is prompt. This fund to which another $100,000 has just been added by the Elks War Relief Committee, has been the means of helping a considerable number of men who, owing to their ignorance of what the government has provided for them were enduring the hardships totally unnecessary. By means of this fund the men are given support through the Federal Board while their papers are being passed upon by the War Risk Insurance Bureau, and until their status has been definitely determined.

TEXAS OIL INVESTORS ORGANIZE AGAINST GRAFTERS

By the Associated Press

DALLAS, Tex., May 19.—The Texas Oil Investors' Protective Association has been organized to combat activities of irresponsible and fraudulent stock selling oil companies. The association, composed of hundreds of investors, will take action to force dividends from fraudulent companies and salvage from incompetents.

Association officers claim that many companies have squandered funds of stockholders, while many others are failing to pay dividends when production is ample to justify such payment.

Public interests was so great after the discovery of new Texas oil fields that nearly every one invested, association officials say. Because of unrestricted stock selling, the situation has become such that it is almost impossible to dispose of stock for the most meritorious development enterprise, big oil men say.

COMMENCEMENT UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Mr. E. A. MacMillan, who went to Clarita, Okla., Friday to address the graduating class of that school reports quite an unusual occurrence. About five o'clock in the afternoon, while the women of the town were making elaborate preparations for this eventful occasion, first graduating exercises ever held in the history of the school—dark clouds began to hover thick and fast, which disclosed an approaching cyclone that caused the inhabitants of the town to seek frantically their various and sundry underground abodes. The small cyclone was accompanied by torrents of rain and a tremendous hail storm. However, no great damage was done and by and by the clouds rolled away displaying a blue sky which gave the occupants of the cellars encouragement to venture forth from their dark dismal dungeons where the calm prevailed which always follows a storm.

It was then growing late but the inhabitants were unwilling to sacrifice their labors and anticipations on this rare occasion, so at 11 o'clock a goodly crowd was gathered at the school house eager for the performances to begin, the last feature of which was the presentation of diplomas long past the midnight hour.

It is not every town or community that is so vitally interested in school work as to meet the occasion under such difficulties as did these people and with as great success.
